They Say:

'Let's Get It

Over With'

Press dispatches report that American troops in Japan taking for the war in Korea are of unanimous opinion about Russia. And if Russia thinks quotations like these constitute "war mongering" let her make the most of 'em: "Let's get it over with."

"I'd rather get it over with now and have some peace. A fellow wants to build a foundation, have a home, a wife and kids. But you can't do that the way things are. I say that if you can't get something with sugar you have to try vinegar."

That last is a good quotation—the line about "sugar." For America has sugar up to the Russians beyond the call of duty to a wartime ally, and beyond the reckoning of human justice.

We had Berlin in our hands—but backed off until the Russians could come up and make formal entry. The Russians are still there. And now they don't want us around—who got there first.

We had Czechoslovakia. The late General Patton's Third Army was actually in the land of famous beer, good shoes, and superior steel. But Russia hinted she'd like to make a token entry there—as in Berlin.

So we pulled our men back out of Czechoslovakia, and the Russians took over. The Czechs didn't get along too well with the Russians, so the Russians changed the Czech government for them. And the Russians are still there—and Americans (who were there first) aren't wanted.

Our sugar for the Russian bear in Berlin and in Czechoslovakia has turned to salt. Or vinegar, as the Japan-based G.I. calls it.

What more could we have done the past five years in the name of peace?

And where has it brought us, but to an undeclared border war on the other side of the world in Korea?

If this be war-mongering, let the Russians make the most of it. No American knows for sure what lies ahead. But one thing every American does know—the sugar daisies are over. Where one great power resolves to live dangerously all other powers are compelled to do the same... until the necessity of a true and lasting peace is finally impressed on all men... one way or another.

Monroney and Thomas Go Into Runoff

Oklahoma City, July 6 — (P) — Sen. Elmer Thomas and Rep. Mike Monroney rallied their forces today for an all-out drive for votes in the July 25 Democratic runoff primary in Oklahoma.

Monroney enters the strenuous three-week campaign as the man to beat. He gained a 14,005 margin over Thomas in Tuesday's holiday primary.

The 48-year-old congressman missed nomination without a runoff when five opponents recorded 41,595 votes. This left Monroney 27,510 short of a majority.

The near-record vote gave Monroney 201,338 and Thomas 187,243 from all but 102 precincts.

A bitter struggle appeared certain for the two veteran legislators. Both confidentially predicted victory in the runoff.

"We have three weeks to nail down the last minute lies that were timed to deceive the voting public on election day," Monroney said.

"This is a hard-hitting young organization that's going up against a hard-hitting federal machine which is violating federal laws."

"Our county managers are keeping tabs on every violation. A lot of federal employees came out openly last week thinking they were going to have to get out of the fight or stand the consequences."

Former Circuit Judge Dies at Russellville

Russellville, July 6 — (P) — A. B. Fridley, former circuit judge, died here last night at the age of 75. He presided over the 5th Circuit court from 1915 until his retirement from the bench in 1939.

A native of Magazine, Ark., Fridley was educated at Cumberland university, Lebanon, Tenn., and began law practice in Danville, Ark. He formed a law partnership with John G. Chambers, but it was dissolved when Fridley was elected judge.

He was a member of the Methodist church and the Methodist church. He also was a director of the Peoples Exchange bank here.

Red Drive Continues

Gov. McMath Speaks Here Tonight at 8

Governor Sid McMath will speak in Hope at the Livestock arena tonight, July 6, at 8 p. m.

Mr. McMath promises to discuss fully all issues of the campaign in which he is seeking re-election for a second term. The huge livestock arena at Fair park will seat 6000 persons.

The public is invited to hear the governor.

Little Rock, July 6 — (P)—Governor McMath praised his highway program, but his chief opponent for the governorship again said all the highway money isn't going where it should in campaign speeches last night.

McMath spoke at Arkadelphia; former Gov. Ben Laney, in Batesville.

McMath declared that maintenance of roads, center stripes on the pavement and work of his highway safety council resulted in 75 fewer deaths in 1949 than in 1948.

He charged Laney with indifference to a condition that existed on a stretch of highway 67 south of Arkadelphia once known as a "death trap."

McMath said that Laney refused to have anything done about the section, where the pavement was 14-inches higher than the gravel shoulders. Since he took office the shoulders have been built up to the pavement level, and there have been no fatalities, McMath said.

He asserted that in 1948, Laney's last year in the governor's office, 13 persons were killed and 127 others injured on that particular stretch of road.

McMath said many delegations unsuccessfully sought Laney's help in getting the dangerous condition remedied. He read what he said was an exchange between Laney and Jim Greene, city editor of the Arkadelphia Siftings Herald, on the matter in 1948.

Laney said at Batesville that under his administration $15,000,000 worth of roads were under contract in 1947 as compared to $13,000,000 worth of roads were under contract in 1946.

"This was done in 1947 although we had about $22,000,000 in gross revenue and McMath had $42,000,000 in 1949."

Laney renewed his charge of last week that "not all the money raised for highway purposes is being spent on the highway system."

Laney's Speaking Schedule

Little Rock, July 6 — (P) — Former Governor Ben Laney's headquarters has announced the schedule for the fourth week of his campaign for governor:

Next Monday — Rogers (morning); Bentonville (afternoon); Springfield (night).

Tuesday — Fayetteville (afternoon); Ft. Smith (night).

Wednesday — Paris, (morning); Dardanelle (noon); Clark's Dale (night).

Thursday — Marianna (morning); Helena (night).

Friday — Short visits at Holly Wabbaska, an Altheimer, Night Grove, Clarendon, Humfrey, Wabbaska, and Altheimer. Night rally at Pine Bluff.

Saturday — Visits to Sherrill, England, and Lonoke with a night speech at Stuttgart.

Husband of Arkansas Girl Killed in Action

Warren, July 6 — (P)—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Selig have been notified by their daughter-in-law that their son, Lt. Louis G. Selig, Jr., was killed in action in Korea.

He was reported in the first Korean fighting casualty list as missing after the crash of a transport plane carrying 11 officers and men from Japan to Korea.

Lt. Selig's wife, the former Miss Carman Ramsey of Monticello, has been in Japan with her husband. She wired her mother and Mrs. Selig that "Louis was killed in action in Korea June 30." She added that she is leaving Japan to return home.

Lt. Selig, who attended school in Stuttgart where the family formerly lived, entered the army during World War II and remained in service.

Lt. Edward Crays, whose wife, Johnnie, lives at Hot Springs, also was reported missing with Lt. Selig in the transport crash.

Lambert Makes Liar Out of North Koreans

Tokyo, July 6 — (P)—Tom Lambert, Associated Press correspondent, tonight personally denied reports he had been captured by the Korean Communists.

Lambert, a navy lieutenant in World War II, showed up at his front line assignment after the Communist radio in Pyongyang had announced his capture.

Lambert has been in Korea almost since the war started. His assignment is with front line troops and that is where he has been.

Radio Pyongyang announced that he and United Press correspondent Peter Kalischer have been captured. (The United Press office here said it had not heard from Kalischer in hours.)

Lambert, a graduate of Gonzaga university, formerly was a resident of Spokane, Wash.

War Ties Up Proposed Tax Reduction

Washington, July 6 — (P) — The American consumer's outlook for a multi-million-dollar excise tax cut — on movie tickets, fur coats, pocketbooks, jewelry and scores of other things — was tied tighter than ever today to the war in Korea.

Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the senate finance committee summed up the tax situation thus:

1. The committee, now considering the house-approved measure to slash excises by $1,010,000,000, will proceed in a normal, orderly way to bring a tax bill to vote in the senate and send it speedily to President Truman.

2. But "if there is a sudden worsening" of the international situation "we may find it advisable to delay final action on any tax bill at this session of congress, and then proceed in January with a tax bill."

"Under certain circumstances," George said, "we may find it necessary to impose much heavier taxes, including taxes on excess profits. But it doesn't look that way right now."

Additional B-29s Sent to Far East

Spokane, July 6 — (P)—More B-29 Superforts — the air force wouldn't say how many — took off last night from Spokane for advanced bases in the Pacific.

The big planes, scourge of the Japanese in World War II, are attached to the 92nd bomb group at Spokane air force base. Other B-29s from the 92nd left here Tuesday night for unnamed destinations in the Far East.

No one has mentioned Korea in connection with the flights but crews that climbed aboard the big bombers tonight gave the impression that they knew this was no routine mission.

Some had 45 automatic pistols strapped to their waist.

Lt. Norman B. Hemingway of Miami, Fla., one of the B-29 pilots, checked the equipment of members of his crew and then asked:

"Are there any questions?"

There were none.

Ten of the 12 men assigned to Hemingway's bomber saw combat in World War II.

His crew members seemed particularly distressed over one thing — the Korean war had cheated them out of a three-day Fourth of July pass, earned last June by their training record. The alert to move out cancelled that.

Wives and children of the air-men watched the takeoffs.

Other B-29s have been ordered to Pacific bases from March air force base in California.

A third quarter conference will be held at Bethel A. M. E. Church Friday night with the Rev. T. D. Crutcher, presiding elder, doing the preaching. A business session will also be held Friday night.

Ten Passengers Die in Rail Collision

Galesburg, Ill., July 6 — (P) — Ten passengers were crushed and twisted to death today in a freak collision of two sleek Santa Fe railway streamliners, running side by side.

Coroner Chauncey Wood of Peoria county announced the toll of ten. The number of injured ranged between 50 and 75, some critically.

The wreck occurred early this morning at Monica, Ill., 14 1/2 miles southwest of Chicago. Monica is 30 miles from Galesburg.

A mail coach of the El Cerrito, extra fare coach train, running between Los Angeles and Chicago, suddenly left the rails and swerved into the Kansas City chief was on the normally busy bound track, under automatic train control.

Bill Carithers, photographer for the Galesburg Register-Mail, said he went through the wrecked coaches and counted eight dead, four of them in a washroom.

Other checks placed the number of known dead at seven. One was an unidentified woman in a Peoria hospital; four were in the "washroom," and Otto Brinkman, Peoria Journal reporter, said he counted bodies of two women in the wreckage. One was badly mangled.

Galesburg, Ill., July 6 — (P)—Two fast Santa Fe railway passenger trains collided today, killing at least seven persons.

Otto Brinkman, reporter for the Peoria Journal, said witnesses at the scene told him the fatality list might reach ten. Seven were known dead.

At least 50 persons were reportedly injured, many seriously. They were being sped to hospitals in Peoria and Galesburg.

Bill Carithers, photographer for the Galesburg Register-Mail, said he went through the train and counted eight dead, four of them in a washroom.

The collision of the two east-bound trains, running on parallel tracks, occurred at Monica, Ill., 14 1/2 miles southwest of Chicago. Monica is 30 miles from Galesburg.

If You Would Like to Hunt for Pirate Gold There Is a Man in Florida Who Will Help

By CHRIS MACGILL (For Hal Boyle)

Tallahassee, Fla. — (P)—If you'd like to spend your Florida vacation hunting doubloons and pieces of eight, a lawyer who never went on a treasure hunt himself has made it easier for you to search for pirate gold.

He is Florida's Assistant State Attorney General Ralph E. Odum, who, with Draftsman Warner Sanford of the state road department, has prepared a colorful Florida treasure map.

Odum has sifted dozens of legends, rumors and stories of treasure hidden in Florida's sands and wastes. Three years of research in the state library, the library of congress the files of the Encyclopedia Britannica have gone into his map.

Selecting only the best documented of the stories, Odum wound up with the approximate whereabouts of some $165,000,000 worth of treasure.

The "True Chart of Pirate Treasure," however, doesn't pretend to be an exact guide to the ancient buccaneers' loot.

"If I could do that, I'd go and dig it up myself," Odum said.

What he does is to mark the map of Florida with crosses indicating the areas in which persistent stories say treasure is to be found.

Sanford adorned the chart with sketches of swashbuckling pirates, their hapless victims, a three-masted sailing ship flying the jolly roger and, of course, that ancient emblem of piracy, the skull and cross bones.

Odum has visited almost all the sites shown on his map but says he's done no digging.

"It takes a lot of capital to go on a treasure hunt," he said.

If he could go after one of the 20-odd treasures marked on his map, which would be a considerable sum of money, he would be a millionaire.

Other permits have allowed hunting in the Florida keys — an other choice location according to the map — and in the mouth of the St. Johns river.

Hot Weather Helps State Cotton Crop

Little Rock, July 6 — (P)—Recent hot weather has helped Arkansas' cotton crop, the crop reporting service said today.

"The early (cotton) crop is squaring rapidly and blooms are appearing in numbers," the report said.

"Most fields are in a good state of cultivation. Over-wintered weeds are decreasing in number, but egg punctures have been heavy in many areas the first brood of weevils is expected to hatch about July 5-10 in southern counties."

No Plans to Call Up Reserves

Washington, July 6 — (P)—President Truman said today there are no present plans to call the national guard or armed force reserves to duty because of the Korean war.

Mr. Truman also said he has no plans now to seek additional military funds.

The President said he was very happy that Secretary of Defense Johnson, the armed forces secretaries and the joint chiefs of staff had decided they would not make speeches during July.

He said he had no dates of his own for speeches, but did not elaborate.

He said he was very happy that the defense establishment was going to devote all its time to work instead of making speeches.

Secretary Johnson announced the "no speeches" decision yesterday. He indicated it was dictated by concern over possible misinterpretation of statements as well as the desire to concentrate on defense department problems.

Mr. Truman was told at his conference that there were reports the United States was exerting pressure on Cairo for Egypt to line up in the United Nations fight against communism in the Far East.

The President replied only that he had no knowledge of the report.

Asked when he might expect a report on industrial mobilization, the President said industrial mobilization planning is always up to the Senate.

He would not say when such a report and recommendations might be sent to congress.

Hempstead Convict Gets Parole

Little Rock, July 6 — (P)—Odell Ramick, 40, of Stuttgart, who killed his former wife here Oct. 18, 1946, was one of 43 convicts paroled yesterday by the state parole board.

Ramick was convicted of voluntary manslaughter and sentenced to seven years imprisonment for the fatal shooting of Mrs. Emma Dell Alley, who had married her third husband a few weeks before her death. Ramick had been her second husband.

The slaying was witnessed by Mrs. Alley's small daughter, who was a witness in the trial of her former stepfather.

Others paroled include (name county and date of sentence, charge, length of term):

Carmel Winfield Arnold, Mississippi, Nov. 5, 1948, assault to rape, five years.

Bobby Jean Brown, Hempstead, Aug. 12, 1949, burglary and grand larceny, two years.

Tommy Daugherty, Benton, Nov. 9, 1949, forgery, two years.

Oren Goff, Mississippi, Nov. 5, 1949, robbery, five years.

Truman Warns Switchmen to End Strike

Washington, July 6 — (P)—President Truman threatened today to take drastic action unless switchmen abandon their strike on five major railroads.

He called it an unjustified strike and blamed it upon a small minority of the switchmen.

He said the switchmen declined to abide by the recommendations of a very able presidential fact-finding board.

Mr. Truman told his news conference he hopes drastic action will not be necessary to force the strikers back to their jobs.

But he said he would act if it became necessary. He declined, however, to say what steps might be taken.

About 4,000 members of the AFL switchmen's union are on strike against the Rock Island, the Chicago Great Western, the Denver and Rio Grande Western, the Western Pacific and the Great Northern railroads. They are demanding a 40 hour week with 48 hours pay. A presidential board proposed, instead, giving them the 40 hour week, with an 18 cent an hour pay increase.

Government mediators are working in Chicago in an effort to end the walkout.

Little Rock, July 6 — (P)—Governor McMath varied his campaign routine today with an offer to act as peacemaker in another railroad strike.

Visiting at Gurdon, he said "as I did when the Missouri Pacific strike was in progress, I am prepared today to offer the services of my administration wherever those services can be helpful in reaching a settlement of the Rock Island strike."

About 1,200 Rock Island employees in Arkansas are idle as the result of a strike of switchmen against the Rock Island and four other lines.

It was at McMath's suggestion that a conference of governors of affected states was called during the Missouri Pacific strike. The meeting is credited with aiding settlement of that walkout.

Complexity of the current strike necessarily limits the mediation efforts of any state labor department, McMath said, but added that the Arkansas labor department is publicly offering its assistance.

The governor also placed a call to John R. Steelman, aide of President Truman to request him to intervene in the strike, but was told he could not talk with Steelman until later in the day. Steelman, an Arkansan, formerly was a conciliator with the U. S. department of labor.

Presbyterians Plan Center for Students

Hot Springs, July 6 — (P)—Arkansas Synod, Presbyterian church, U. S. A., was expected to act today on a resolution calling for operation of a student center at the University of Arkansas.

The project would be a joint one with the Southern Presbyterian church.

The resolution was introduced at opening of the Synod's 116th annual session yesterday, but action was deferred.

The Rev. Victor Janek of Benton was elected moderator to succeed the Rev. Robert L. Moreland of Harrison.

Year-Old Strike Against Paper Continues

Springfield, Mo., July 6 — (Special)—The strike of 82 members of the International Typographical Union against the News-Leader here will be a year old July 11, with the paper still in publication.

The strike started after the union failed to get a 37 1/2 hour work week with pay for 40 hours. Picketing still is going on outside the struck plant which is publishing the newspaper with tele-typing and non-union line-type operators.

Managing Editor C. W. Johnson estimates that about one-third of the original strikers are still in the strike. The others have been taken over by the union.

Korean Situation Not 'Serious' Says MacArthur

Washington, July 6 — (P)—General MacArthur's headquarters has advised the Pentagon that the situation of American ground forces in Korea "is not considered serious in any way."

An army spokesman, telling today of the MacArthur advice, denied vigorously that an American infantry outpost was "wiped out" by North Korean tank-led forces.

Tokyo advised the Pentagon, the spokesman said, that the outpost had been withdrawn behind strong defense positions and that losses were "very moderate."

The attack on the outpost was made in force by an undetermined number of Korean troops and between 40 to 80 tanks.

The withdrawal of the outpost, the spokesman said, followed approved tactical procedures and in no respect was the outpost wiped out."

and British forces. The chunky Normandy invasion, said a press conference, had been destroyed by the Korean planes they were sweeping from Pyongyang. The total confirmed kills, he said, were about 75 submarines based in the Pacific.

Vice Admiral Charles T. Joy, commander of naval forces in the Far East, likewise said his forces have had "nothing confirmed" in submarine contacts.

A Chinese central news agency correspondent pressed Struble persistently on possible Formosa invasion, saying the Chinese Communists had said they would have landings on Formosa.

"I'm going to be prepared to prevent it if they do," Struble said.

"Can you?"

"I'll certainly try," Struble replied.

Later he said "I don't anticipate letting any sizeable invasion force get through" to Formosa.

Would Probe Communist Investigation

Washington, July 6.—(AP)—Republican members of a senate inquiry committee plan a new protest against the Democratic majority's decision to get out a preliminary report on the stormy Communist-in-government investigation.

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said the protest will be made tomorrow when the committee meets behind closed doors to take its first look at a rough draft of the proposed report prepared by the group's staff.

"There is absolutely no justification for any kind of a report, preliminary or otherwise, at this time," Hickenlooper told a reporter. "The committee has hardly scratched the surface in this investigation."

Hickenlooper and Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) split with the three Democratic members of a senate foreign relations subcommittee last week when the majority pushed through a resolution calling for a report on the inquiry, which began last March 8.

Truman Backs Nomination of Pike

Washington, July 6.—(AP)—President Truman declared today he is 100 per cent behind Sumner T. Pike for renomination to the atomic energy commission. He said senate opposition to Pike stems from Republican party politics.

At his news conference, Mr. Truman also criticized Senator Edwin O. Johnson (D-Colo.), who joined four Republican senators in the 5 to 4 vote against Pike's reappointment.

The vote was cast by the senate members of the senate-house atomic energy committee.

The nomination still is to be considered by the full senate which is due to vote Monday on confirmation.

Mr. Truman said Johnson votes with the Republicans much more often than he does with the Democrats.

A reporter told the President that an unidentified senator had said he would vote for Pike's confirmation if he could be assured Pike would not be named chairman of the AEC.

Mr. Truman replied that he would make no deal with anyone in the senate.

Luncheon Bridge

Honors Bride-Elect
Miss Dorothy O'Neal, bride-elect of Frank E. Robins, III, was the inspiration for a luncheon-bridge at 12:30 noon Wednesday, given by Miss Barbara LaGrone at the home of her parents, on North McRae street.

The LaGrone home was decorated with lovely arrangements of summer flowers with daisies predominating. Guests were seated at quartet tables which were covered with white linen luncheon cloths and centered with small vases of daisies. The honorees place was marked with a gift of crystal in her chosen pattern.

Bridge was played following the luncheon with Miss Ruth Hamilton winning high score.

Those enjoying the occasion were Miss Dorothy O'Neal, Mrs. Earl O'Neal, Mrs. Jack Gardner, Miss Ruth Hamilton, Mrs. George Frazier, Miss Alice Lile, Miss Mary Ester Edmiston, Miss Troy Hammons, Mrs. Dale Dunn, Mrs. Tom Purvis, Mrs. F. B. Ward, Jr. Mrs. LaMar Cox, the hostess, and her mother, Mrs. LaGrone.

Stark-Butler

Wedding Announced
A candlelight ceremony united Miss Joanne Stark and Luther Dale Butler in marriage Saturday at 8 p. m. in the First Methodist Church of La Marque, Texas.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Stark of La Marque and the groom is the son of Mrs. Roy Butler of Hope, Ark.

The Rev. Basil Jones, pastor performed the double-ring ceremony.

Double arches decorated with fern and white feverfew held with satin bows formed the setting for the ceremony. Baskets of white gladioli and branched candelabra made the other church decorations.

Mrs. G. L. Berry sang "Because" and "I Love Thee," accompanied by Mrs. H. E. Morris at the organ.

WHITE SATIN

The bride entered on the arm of her father. She was attired in a white satin gown fashioned with a fitted bodice, Peter Pan collar and tiny white buttons to the waist.

Chantilly lace was applied on the bodice and made a pleated effect on the skirt, which extended to a cathedral-length train.

Her fingertip silk illusion veil was held in place by a fitted cloche designed with applique satin leaves outlined by seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis centered by a white orchid.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Grace Ramsower of Mathis served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Pat Hardy of Amarillo and Miss Dianne Warwick of La Marque.

Miss Ramsower was attired in a blue organdy over taffeta dress fashioned with a Peter Pan collar and buttons to the waist of the fitted bodice.

BLUE BONNET

Her hat was a blue organdy open crown bonnet. She carried a colonial corsage of pink carnations and feverfew with matching streamers.

The bridesmaid's dresses were identical to that of the maid of honor. Miss Hardy wore a pale green dress with a colonial bouquet of yellow Ester reeds and feverfew with matching streamers.

Miss Warwick wore a pale pink dress and carried a colonial bouquet of blue Ester reeds and feverfew with matching streamers. The bridesmaids wore bandeaux outlined in flowers.

Best man was W. R. Richmond. Ushers were J. B. Sherrill and H. Craig.

The mother of the bride chose an ashes of rose lace and chiffon over taffeta dress. She wore an open crown turban of French maline in a soft shade of ashes of roses.

Her mitts matched her eggshell opera pumps. Her corsage was of blue carnations.

RECEPTION

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 207 Oak Ave., immediately following the ceremony.

The four-tiered wedding cake, decorated with white rose buds and silver leaves, was placed on a reflector on the lace laid dining table. The bride's bouquet centered the table.

Miss Francis Ayars presided at the brides book. Miss Jackie Merely and Miss Alice Ramsower served cake and punch.

For traveling, the bride chose an aqua gabardine suit. Her natural straw accessories were decorated with bands of navy velvet ribbon.

After a wedding trip to Hot Springs, Ark., the couple will live in Texas City.

The bride graduated from La Marque high school and attended the University of Texas, where she was a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman honorary, and Delta Zeta.

The groom attended Arkansas A&M and served in the infantry during World War II.

He is at present employed at Carbide Texas.

First of the Fine Cars in Value

The Car that puts your Best Foot forward

WEB think you'll agree that the whole story of an automobile isn't told in its power, its room, its styling, even in its ride.

There's the all-important point about what a car does to you—and that's where ROADMASTER really shines.

For you can't slip into this bonny beauty's broad seats without feeling like somebody pretty special.

When you take its neat wheel in your hand—when you cut loose, with a toe-touch, the rich baritone of its big Fireball straight-eight power plant—when you feel the smooth surge of its Dynaflo-cushioned take-off—

Man, then you know you've got a real automobile!

And don't overlook this:

That graceful sweep of chrome along the fender—found on no other car made today—is a mighty eye-catching note of distinction.

Those four Ventiports, too, cause many a head to turn—they mark you unmistakably as the owner of the biggest and best Buick built—a car as fine and rich as any man has need for.

There are a lot of good, solid, dollars-and-cents reasons for making ROADMASTER your choice over any other car:

Its size. The commanding performance of its 152-hp Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight engine. Dynaflo Drive standard. A ride that's quite matchless in its gentle softness. Distinguished styling from bold, protective front end to gleaming "double bubble" taillight.

But if you're ready for a car that's more than just an automobile—if you want one that puts your best foot forward in any company—that's the real reason for seeing your Buick dealer quickly—to talk turkey about a ROADMASTER.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT

This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and gorging easier.

The audit covers Deere's accounts as collector from Jan. 1, 1930 until his removal May 4 and his accounts from Jan. 1, 1947 to last May 4.

In the latter classification, $43,112.75 was reported as not fees earned and $5,480 of excess fees after payment of sheriff's and deputies' salaries from the original net.

The excess fees were paid to the county treasurer, $3,486.01 being remitted in 1950, the audit report said.

Dr. Sander Making Usual Rounds

Manchester, N. H., July 6 — (P) — Dr. Herman N. Sander was back on his medical rounds today.

His office had been closed for more than six months following his indictment on a charge of murder in the death of cancer patient Mrs. Abbie Boreto, 59.

A Superior court jury acquitted him last March. Six weeks later the New Hampshire board of registration in medicine revoked his license on the grounds of conduct unbecoming members of the profession.

The board restored Dr. Sander's license last week and the 42-year-old physician reopened his office for the first time yesterday since his indictment.

He made several house calls during the morning. Later, he went to his office where 12 patients awaited him. His first was a girl who wanted to be vaccinated.

Dr. Sander must, however, limit his practice to minor ailments.

He has yet to win reinstatement in the Hillsboro county medical society, which dropped him following action by the state board.

Until he regains membership in the county group, he cannot practice in two Manchester hospitals. Two other hospitals — both operated by Catholic orders — have dropped him "forever."

The county society is not scheduled to meet until September.

Dr. Sander said that should any of his patients require hospitalization, he would refer them to another physician.

Meanwhile, county Commissioner Leonello Breton said it cost the county $14,171.63 to try Dr. Sander on the charge he injected air into Mrs. Boreto's vein to hasten her death.

Without warning a young man dashed out of a drugstore, took a flying leap in the air with legs astride, and fell in a heap in the gutter.

An elderly man hastened over to him, asking anxiously.

"My, my, are you hurt?"

"No, was the angry reply, but I'd like to meet the smart-alec who moved my bicycle."

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pagler
Copyright, 1950
By King Features Syndicate.

New York, July 5—in the memories of Ed Barrow, for many years the business manager of the Yankees, I learn that I had considerable personal responsibility for the winning of a pennant by the second of the great Yankee teams, the one that coalesced in the spring of 1926 and won breezily. The 1925 club had been a great one but had staggered home in seventh place simply because, as Miller Huggins told Barrow, the Athletics hadn't the will to win. So Barrow gave Huggins permission to break up the Yankees and they got rid of Wally Schang, Whitey Witt, Deacon Scott, Walter Pipp, all fine men, and started rebuilding. However, they still had Ruth and Meusel and some great pitchers and I think Mr. Barrow had let sentiment obscure the fact that one reason why the players hadn't the will to win was that they had contempt for their manager, Barrow's friend, Huggins.

I had no personal feeling for or against Huggins, but I could see that the Athletics scorned him, and that lack of authority was responsible for the debility of the club. This was Huggins' own failure and the same disorganization was apparent in the naked eye the next spring when I inspected the Yankees on the old lot in St. Petersburg. Toward the end of 1925 Huggins had sent Ruth home from St. Louis and fined him $5,000 for general insubordination, but this assertion of his authority was belated. Huggins had run them with a loose rein all year.

There had been a rumor around the American League that Ruth and some other robust characters had got drunk and tried to make Huggins eat a pullman towel with ketchup. This may not have been true, but there was some reason to give the story weight because ball-players are very secretive about their family fights and unquestionably the Yankees of that time had a cheap opinion of Huggins. He was puny physically and, as Barrow knew, being a pugacious giant himself, they responded best to the threat of tough, direct action.

As Ed recalls, the Yankees had kicked away two exhibition games to the Braves, 18 to 2 and 6 to 4, when I came by St. Petersburg that spring and saw the players skylarking in a practice session and Miller Huggins sitting in the far end of the bleachers, chewing a stick and talking with a local real estate boomster. There was one very stylish new player on the field whose class was apparent even to a layman, but he was off by himself and seemed not to know the others. This was Tony Lazzeri, a recruit, who was to become one of the greatest. On this occasion at least, and after two bad beatings, the Yankees were still the same indifferent crew who had finished seventh a few months before and the manager was still apart from the team and seemed equally indifferent.

Mr. Barrow thinks my essay which won the pennant of 1926 said: "Miller Huggins hasn't got a team to manage. And if he had one, he couldn't manage it." Those words I do not recall, but such was the tenor of the piece, however, the trigger-line was one that said the Yankees thought Huggins was a sap and one paper ran a picture of Huggins over a cut-line reading "the sap." That was the crack that won the pennant.

"I sent the article to Huggins," Barrow writes. "Put this on the clubhouse bulletin board," I told Huggins. "Let those fellows see what one sports writer thinks of them." Actually the article made the players as mad as it had made me. And it made the team. Coming north they beat the Dodgers 14 games in a row, winning every exhibition game and giving the Brooklyn ace, Dazzy Vance, a particular hammering in Atlanta. It was the beginning of a surge that didn't stop until they had won the pennant.

Entering the Yankee stadium for the first game of the World Series with St. Louis, I was thinking of the weird scene on that practice field in SST. Petersburg as the rabble clowned in witless confusion and of the contrast now. As I went through the working press entrance, Mark Roth, the traffic manager or traveling secretary — the fellow who got — the pullman space and the rooms on the road and saw to baggage — Mark flung his arms around me and thanked me noisily for his own share of the World Series money, probably a couple of thousand dollars. None of them had believed the Yankees were worth a prayer that day in St. Petersburg and with Ben in regard for Huggins, who left a good impres on several young athletes, notably Waite Hoyt, a pitcher, I have to insist that he, too, needed something to hop him up.

"Hoyt was a great pitcher and a fine boy, though. When those 1926-'22-'23 Yankees were at their roistering best Waite was among the gayest of them," Barrows says, "but I still have a great affection for him."

Those are my sentiments, too, and in the years since I have several times heard Hoyt speak almost reverently of Huggins. But on one gaudy occasion when Huggins took Waite out of an exhibition game on the way home from Florida, Hoyt threw the ball over the grandstand and Bill McGeehan or Heywood Brown wrote that he should have thrown Huggins after

Several Bills May Fall by the Wayside

Washington, July 6 — (P) — Senate leaders are trimming their law-making plans to bare bones in a drive to wind up this session of congress by August 1.

Majority Leader Lucas (D-Ill.), with backing of the Democratic policy committee, set the pattern yesterday by cutting his list of required legislation to little more than taxes and appropriations.

Chairman Taft (R-Ohio) said the senate GOP policy makers would not upset these plans.

Only the tense international situation threatened to stand off the ball. Call these phases of a strange situation in baseball not to disparage Huggins but to develop the details of the picture.

Not that it matters to me or my heirs, but I am afraid I may claim equal credit or blame for the election of Harry S. Truman in 1948. In the spring of '48 as I was confronting Bubblehead Wallace with an accusing glare and demanding to know whether he had written the goofy guru letters, a shrewd editor said I ought to be ashamed to inflict Truman on the nation just to prove a story. He wanted Wallace let alone to poll his full strength, which would all be subtracted from Truman's vote. After election would be soon enough to expose old Bubblehead. As in the matter of the Yankees of 1926, however, I didn't know my own strength and the silly, sordid story of Henry's infatuation with a grandiose sideshow character in Chinatown got up cut down Eleanor Roosevelt's candidate just enough to let Truman win.

session-end, pressure of an election year.

The probable list of legislative casualties was a long one including President Truman's repeated demands for action on his civil rights program.

House-passed bills to grant Hawaii and Alaska statehood appeared likely to die in the senate rush.

One Outfit Plans for War on Home Front

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, July 6 —(AP)—There is one outfit above all others in this country which has the job of planning for war — on the home front — if it comes.

This is the national security resources board. The chairman is W. Stuart Symington, former secretary of the air force. He was appointed to his present job by the President.

Seven members of President Truman's cabinet sit on this board, with Symington. They are the secretaries of the treasury, defense, state, interior, agriculture, commerce and labor departments.

When we got into World War II we had to go through a slap-dash mess of controlling manpower, getting plants converted to war, putting controls on such things as prices, and so on.

So that we'd be a little better prepared in case of another war, congress in 1947 passed an act creating the NSRB. We'll never know how well it's done its job of preparing for another war unless we get into another one.

The NSRB has a staff of about 280 people, mostly specialists in industry, economics and other fields.

The board's purpose can be stated this way: To advise the President on how this country's wide resources — men, materials, and plants — can be fitted together to work together in wartime. This means having plans ready. The NSRB has eight offices, each with a separate specialty: 1. Manpower. NSRB is supposed to study, and know, what our wartime needs in manpower will be. How many people needed for military service (NSRB works with the armed services on this), how many for war work, what kind of manpower controls we should have.

2. Production. This means a survey of American plants to find out what they can produce in wartime, how they can be converted and to what. (Another agency, the munitions board, makes the actual agreements with plants in peacetime for work they can do in wartime.)

3. Materials. This means planning to have sufficient supplies of the most vital war materials — like steel, rubber, lumber, chemicals — and what controls would be needed to be sure they were used for war.

4. Energy and utilities. This means planning to have sufficient supplies of coal, oil, gas, water and electric power. And it means recommending steps to be taken to be sure we have the necessary supply of utilities. For instance: It might mean gasoline rationing.

5. Economic management. This would include plans for good rationing, price control, rent control, taxes, financing the war, and so on.

6. Foreign activities. This covers plans for control over goods that would be shipped out of this country or brought in here. In other words: Import and export controls.

7. Civilian mobilization. This covers civilian defense and requires agreements to be worked out with state and city officials.

8. Transportation. This involves plans for wartime railroad travel and shipping trucks, and planes, plus sea transport and even storage.

It can be seen from this that the eight offices of the NSRB could be the starting points for wartime agencies such as we had in World War II: a manpower commission, a civil defense agency, a war production board, an OPA.

(Other government agencies dealing in the various fields mentioned above may have plans or ideas that differ a bit from the NSRB's. But since the heads of those other agencies — the members of President Truman's cabinet — sit on the NSRB with Symington, NSRB can get the benefit of the varied thinking in the government.)

All this means — or it should mean — that if war comes the NSRB ought to be able to lay in plans for turning the home front into a huge war effort.

'Rights Bill' for Draftees Suggested

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

Washington, July 6 —(AP)—A new "bill of rights" for men drafted into the armed forces was suggested today by Rep. Dwight L. Rogers (D-Fla.).

While there have been no inductions for 18 months, the draft law which was extended last week for another year would allow the President to order inductions at once in the event the war situation becomes worse.

If such inductions are ordered, Rogers said, he will sponsor legislation to:

1. Insure that no inducted men lose their regular life insurance through premium lapses.

2. Provide that the government make rent payments when necessary to prevent families of inducted men from being evicted for non-payment of rent.

3. Guarantee that inducted men shall not lose homes they are buying through failure to meet mortgage payments.

The legislation I have in mind would provide that the government take over payment of rents and mortgages and life insurance premiums if the man inducted requests it. The government would make those payments direct to the landlord, the mortgage holder or the insurance company during the time a man is in service and for six months after he gets out.

Bank Call

Washington, July 6 —(AP)—The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for a statement of assets and liabilities of all banks in order to give him a chance to get back on his feet.
